

Sara Azenha is a dynamic professional with a robust background in biochemistry, having earned her degree from a prestigious Portuguese university. Upon moving to the UK, she decided to continue her scientific journey and now contributes her expertise in a pharmacy setting.

Committed to lifelong learning and professional growth, Sara is furthering her education by pursuing a course in Business and Accounting.

Her unique combination of scientific knowledge and business acumen, along with her extensive experience, makes her the perfect professional to serve as “The Portuguese Offer, International Trade Exchange” Academia and Research Liaison.